

KUNG-FU HIGH IMPACT

The ultimate action game for Kinect™ is now available!

Varese, 25th November 2011 – Leading publisher Black Bean Games proudly announce today that “Kung – Fu High Impact”, the brand new and groundbreaking action game for Kinect™ for Xbox 360®, is now available in stores.

Developed by the talented game developer Virtual Air Guitar Company (<http://www.virtualairguitar.com>) and published by Black Bean Games in PAL territories and by UTV Ignition Games in the US, “Kung – Fu High Impact” is an original comic-book style action game which delivers great fun and humour. The product features an extremely accurate body tracking technology to see the real image of the player on the screen to fight the baddies.

Thanks to the Story Mode, you will be catapulted into an epic journey that puts you up against a wide variety of enemies, from small flying ones to huge boss fights. Become a capable Kung-Fu hero and execute an infinite combination of fighting moves; boosted with super special powers, you will definitely get to act in the story as yourself, becoming the real hero of the game.

Whether you play solo or with up to 4 friends thanks to offline multiplayer mode, Kung-Fu High Impact makes it possible for you to kick ass on a whole new level. Epic battles, super powers and awesomely empowering action, what else do you need?
